

ISBN number	1-56947-174-6 (alk. paper): $25.00	This one was pretty straight forward and found on the facing page.
Title and Statement of Responsibility	The devil's cup: coffee, the driving force in history/Stewart Lee Allen	This information was taken directly from the title page
Edition		There was no specific edition number mentioned, so I left the line blank.
Publication Information	New York, NY: Soho Press Inc. 1999	Information found on the Facing Page provided. The publication information was included with the copyright.
Physical Description	231 p.; 22.1 cm.	This information was provided on the last page, but in a practical situation, this information would be obtained through examination of the book. One of the problems I had was breaking down the pages to mark the illustrations. I think this could be done with the actual artifact in hand, but with only a few pages, this was more difficult.
Notes		I took the information from the expected places. There were a few things I missed, but I think these facts could be found in the application of an actual artifact observation.
